FROM INDONESIA TO THE WORLD

By exporting our Indonesian products across the world, we can introduce another part of the wonderful face of Indonesia

Increasing international trade provides greater opportunities for Indonesian companies to share their unique products with rest of the world. Base on a combination of the right product, the right team and the right financial model, Indonesian companies can succeed in global trade to the benefit of themselves and to the nation.

PT Gunung Slamet Plantation Division is part of Rekso Group who was more than 19 years of experience in the industry.

We first took on the challenge of becoming a recognized international trader of high quality agriculture products and it was established in August 2000. Initially focused on exporting and trading tea, the company vision has grown to include exporting a wider range of quality agricultural products.

We realize that as a global player, the company's export products reflect Indonesia's Agro-Industry and create responsibility that the company does not take lightly. A key in the company's success is to provide a high quality-Indonesian product for the world's nations to enjoy. We are not simply a trading company, they intimately involved in the development and production of each of the products that it exports.

At our company, regular face-to-face meetings with the importing clients are balanced with regular face-to-face meetings with the managers in the fields.

The end result is product cultivated and produced to meet the consumer's demands.

By focusing on delivery of indonesia's finest agro-products. We intend not only to build its own reputation but also to strengthen and build Indonesia's reputation as a premier source of high quality agricultural products in the international community

FROM PRODUCING TO TRADING

" If you put the best experience and raw materials into production you will achieve the highest quality goods to trade "

We are experts in the tea industry and have built an overall production and trade model based on that success. Once the company understands the intricacies of producing consistently high quality goods, in addition to delivering a product that meets the equally complex demands of the consumer, no shortcuts are taken.

Ours excellent high quality products is based in part on major investments made in production and processing including the procurement of specialized blending using sophisticated tea blending drum, packaging, and storage facilities to deal with a range of international customized orders. Producing on prime fertile plant areas, we currently operates seven tea estates ; Gunung Rosa, Gunung Manik, and Gunung Cempaka in Cianjur, Cukul in Pangalengan, Neglasari in Garut, Gunung Satria and Sambawa in Tasikmalaya

Our operations are supported by the most valuable and reliable assets in the human resources. We currently employs 3000 people who are trained and adhere to the strictest quality standards, ensuring that each of all products can compete and win in the international marketplace. We are now ready to transfer the knowledge that it has mastered over a long history in the tea industry to agriculture commodities. Producing and trading each of these commodities will be undertaken with the same passion and care as the company has shown with it's tea product.
